

The Erasmus+ Program was established by the European Union in December 2013 and represents the new EU instrument dedicated to the education sector.

The program is focused on key activities including student individual mobility for learning purposes.

The student mobility is divided into:

Mobility for
*Study

Mobility for *Traineeship

ERASMUS+ Program (2013-2020) – INFO 1_{/2}

It is possible to repeat the Erasmus+ mobility more than once during the university career, alternating periods of Study and/or Traineeship, for a maximum of 12 months of mobility for each of the 3 cycles of study (Bachelor, Master and PhD).

Duration of the mobility

- Mobility for Study:
minimum 3 months, max 12 months

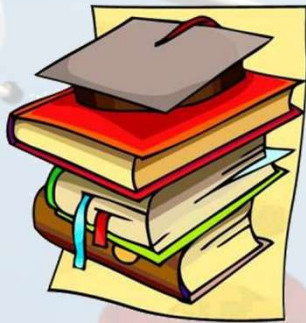

Duration of the mobility

- Mobility for Traineeship:
minimum 2 months, max 12 months

ERASMUS+ Program (2013-2020) – INFO 2_{/2}

Mobility for Study: it is based on Bilateral Agreement, within the mobility it is possible to take courses and take advantage of the facilities available at the host institution without additional registration fees.

There is a guarantee of recognition of the study period abroad based on a Learning Agreement to be followed abroad, approved by both the home institution and the host institution.

Mobility for Traineeship: it is based on Bilateral or Individual Agreement, there is a guarantee of the recognition of the activity abroad on the basis of a Traineeship Agreement approved by both the home institution and the host institution. Graduate students can also participate.

The participation in both Erasmus+ Studio and Traineeship calls is compatible, in the same academic year, nevertheless the total duration must not exceed 12 months per cycle / level.

Students enrolled at a certain level of education (bachelor, master's or doctorate), in the same academic year can plan a 6-month mobility in Erasmus+ Study (i.e. from September to February) and then 6 months in Erasmus+ Traineeship (i.e. from March to September), or up to max 12 months.

Both mobilities (Study or Traineeship), of the current calls can be carried out from August 2019 until 30 September 2020.
